Reflections on a Vietnam Tragedy

SAIGON—It is midafternoon at Tan Son Nhut airfield, and, as usual, hot. No hint of cooling rain. Just high sun. And a temperature over 90.

The boxes however, are shielded from the heat. They are resting, one atop another, in the structured shade of the U.S. Air Force's outcountry loading depot.

They are oblong, eight feet by 30 inches. They are made of aluminum. Each of them has three lock-snaps on either side. All of them are unpainted, even free of the usually stenciled military nomenclature.

There are just 18 boxes today.

At present, the boxes are lying on loading palettes. They are positioned under signs reading "Dover" and "Travis". They are covered with plastic sheeting for weather protection. They are strapped down and securely netted with nylon mesh.

A Lieutenant from New Jersey checks the strapping. A Negro from North Carolina looks over the paperwork. a blonde airman from California backs away in a forklift truck.

At the edge of the depot, two Vietnamese workers squat together in soft chatter. They are women in conical hats. Mama sans. They do odd jobs here at the out-country depot.

But they never touch the boxes. Only Americans do that.

There is a thing here about the boxes. A reverence, maybe. Some of the seasoned men have removed their caps. And even the newcomers, who will bounce other cargo around noisily, approach the boxes with restraint.

They are here, usually, only a short time. Never more than 24 hours. Seldom more than 3 or 4.

The boxes are top priority.

Some clouds begin to form. Cotton candy in the skys. Delicious against the blue. But down the horizon, on the other side of the runway, a belch of black smoke—it's origin unknown.

"Bomb?" somebody asks, pointing.

"Can't tell."

The afternoon proceeds. The men move at half-speed in the heat.

The cargo is piled. Mounds of it. Machinery parts, jet engines, bomb casings, household furniture. Air-conditioning for Okinawa. Chairs for Hickman AFB. All of it carted in olive-green cartons, lashed and ready.

And in the middle. The boxes.

Eighteen of them today. One hundred this week. Five hundred this month. Eight thousand this year. Forty thousand this war.

Waiting.

Quietly.

To go home.

We, the 1973 Senior Class of Green Valley High School, dedicate this yearbook to all the men who have served, died and were prisoners of the war in Vietnam.

SOME TRUST IN CHARIOTS

There were those who must have thought us mad spending all that time and money we never had.
Well, some trust in chariots and some in marble banks, some of us just love each other and never ask for thanks
There were those who must have thought us daft from the way we cried together and the way we laughed.
Well, some trust in chariots and some in big machines, some of you save diamonds, baby, some of us save dreams
Some trust in chariots with great big yellow wheels,
Well, I ride in a chariot and oh, how empty it feels.
There were those who must have thought us fools loving like a house on fire and breaking all the rules.
Well, some trust in chariots, in chariots they ride,
we ride the wings of love together side by side.

Class Prophesy

"COURT WILL COME TO ORDER"

State of Green Valley versus the Senior Class of 1973. Prosecution charges the defendants with MURDER. They have been killing time for ten years!

"And now the defendants will take the stand. Jerry Timke step forward! What have you to say in your defense?"

"Not guilty, sir! For the past ten years I have been profitably employed on my pickle farm with my wife, Althea Earp."

"Tim Coile, Wayne Deppert, Dennis Davison and David Friedrich take the stand, please."

"We didn't do it your Judgeship. We are employed in an organization called the B.B.B.G. of Green Valley."

"Jacque Eeten, Linda Friedrick, Pam LaFary and Cheri Shay, Step forward."

"We're sorry Judge, we rushed right over as soon as we got off work, we didn't even have time to change. We haven't been wasting our ten years. We are employed at the Bohemian Dinners Club down town."

"Next witnesses: Kevin Garman, Curt Goeken, Randy Kenney and Frank Scott step forward please."

"We aren't the ones you want sir! We all work over at the local attractions of G.V. The Trees, Hells Acres and Devils Neck."

"Next please, Gayle Flexsenhar, Roseanne Hutton, Peg Kamp, Mari Rademacker, Marcia Rutter and last but not least, Phyllis Tucker."

"Sir, if any one is less guilty, it's us. We are all married and have ten children—a piece. We still live in good old Green Valley."

"Joel Runyon, Jerry Pfeiffer, Chuck Null, Buddy Vanderwulp, Dana Watts and John Woodrow please take the stand."

"Your honor, we have been in Canada for the past ten years, trapping moles!"

"Last but not least Jim Smith and Scott Urish take the stand."

"Now Judge, just relax and answer these few questions and we'll get to the bottom of these crimes."

1.) If your right eye is looking north can your left eye look south? It can't?

2.) Can you pat your head and rub your stomach at the same time? you can't?

"Our questions have proven that you are guilty! Since you can do none of these things, you have been killing time. We charge you Judge (Mr. Santoro in disguise), with MURDER !!!!

TURF

When I was gone, it sprouted

the same sun blistered

on a different step

no one called through the airs

When I was gone, they were free

of my face laughter

But it turns out, he sat on an even different step waiting for me,

grass in my hair,

a one-week farm woman

then . . .

he hugged me like the city

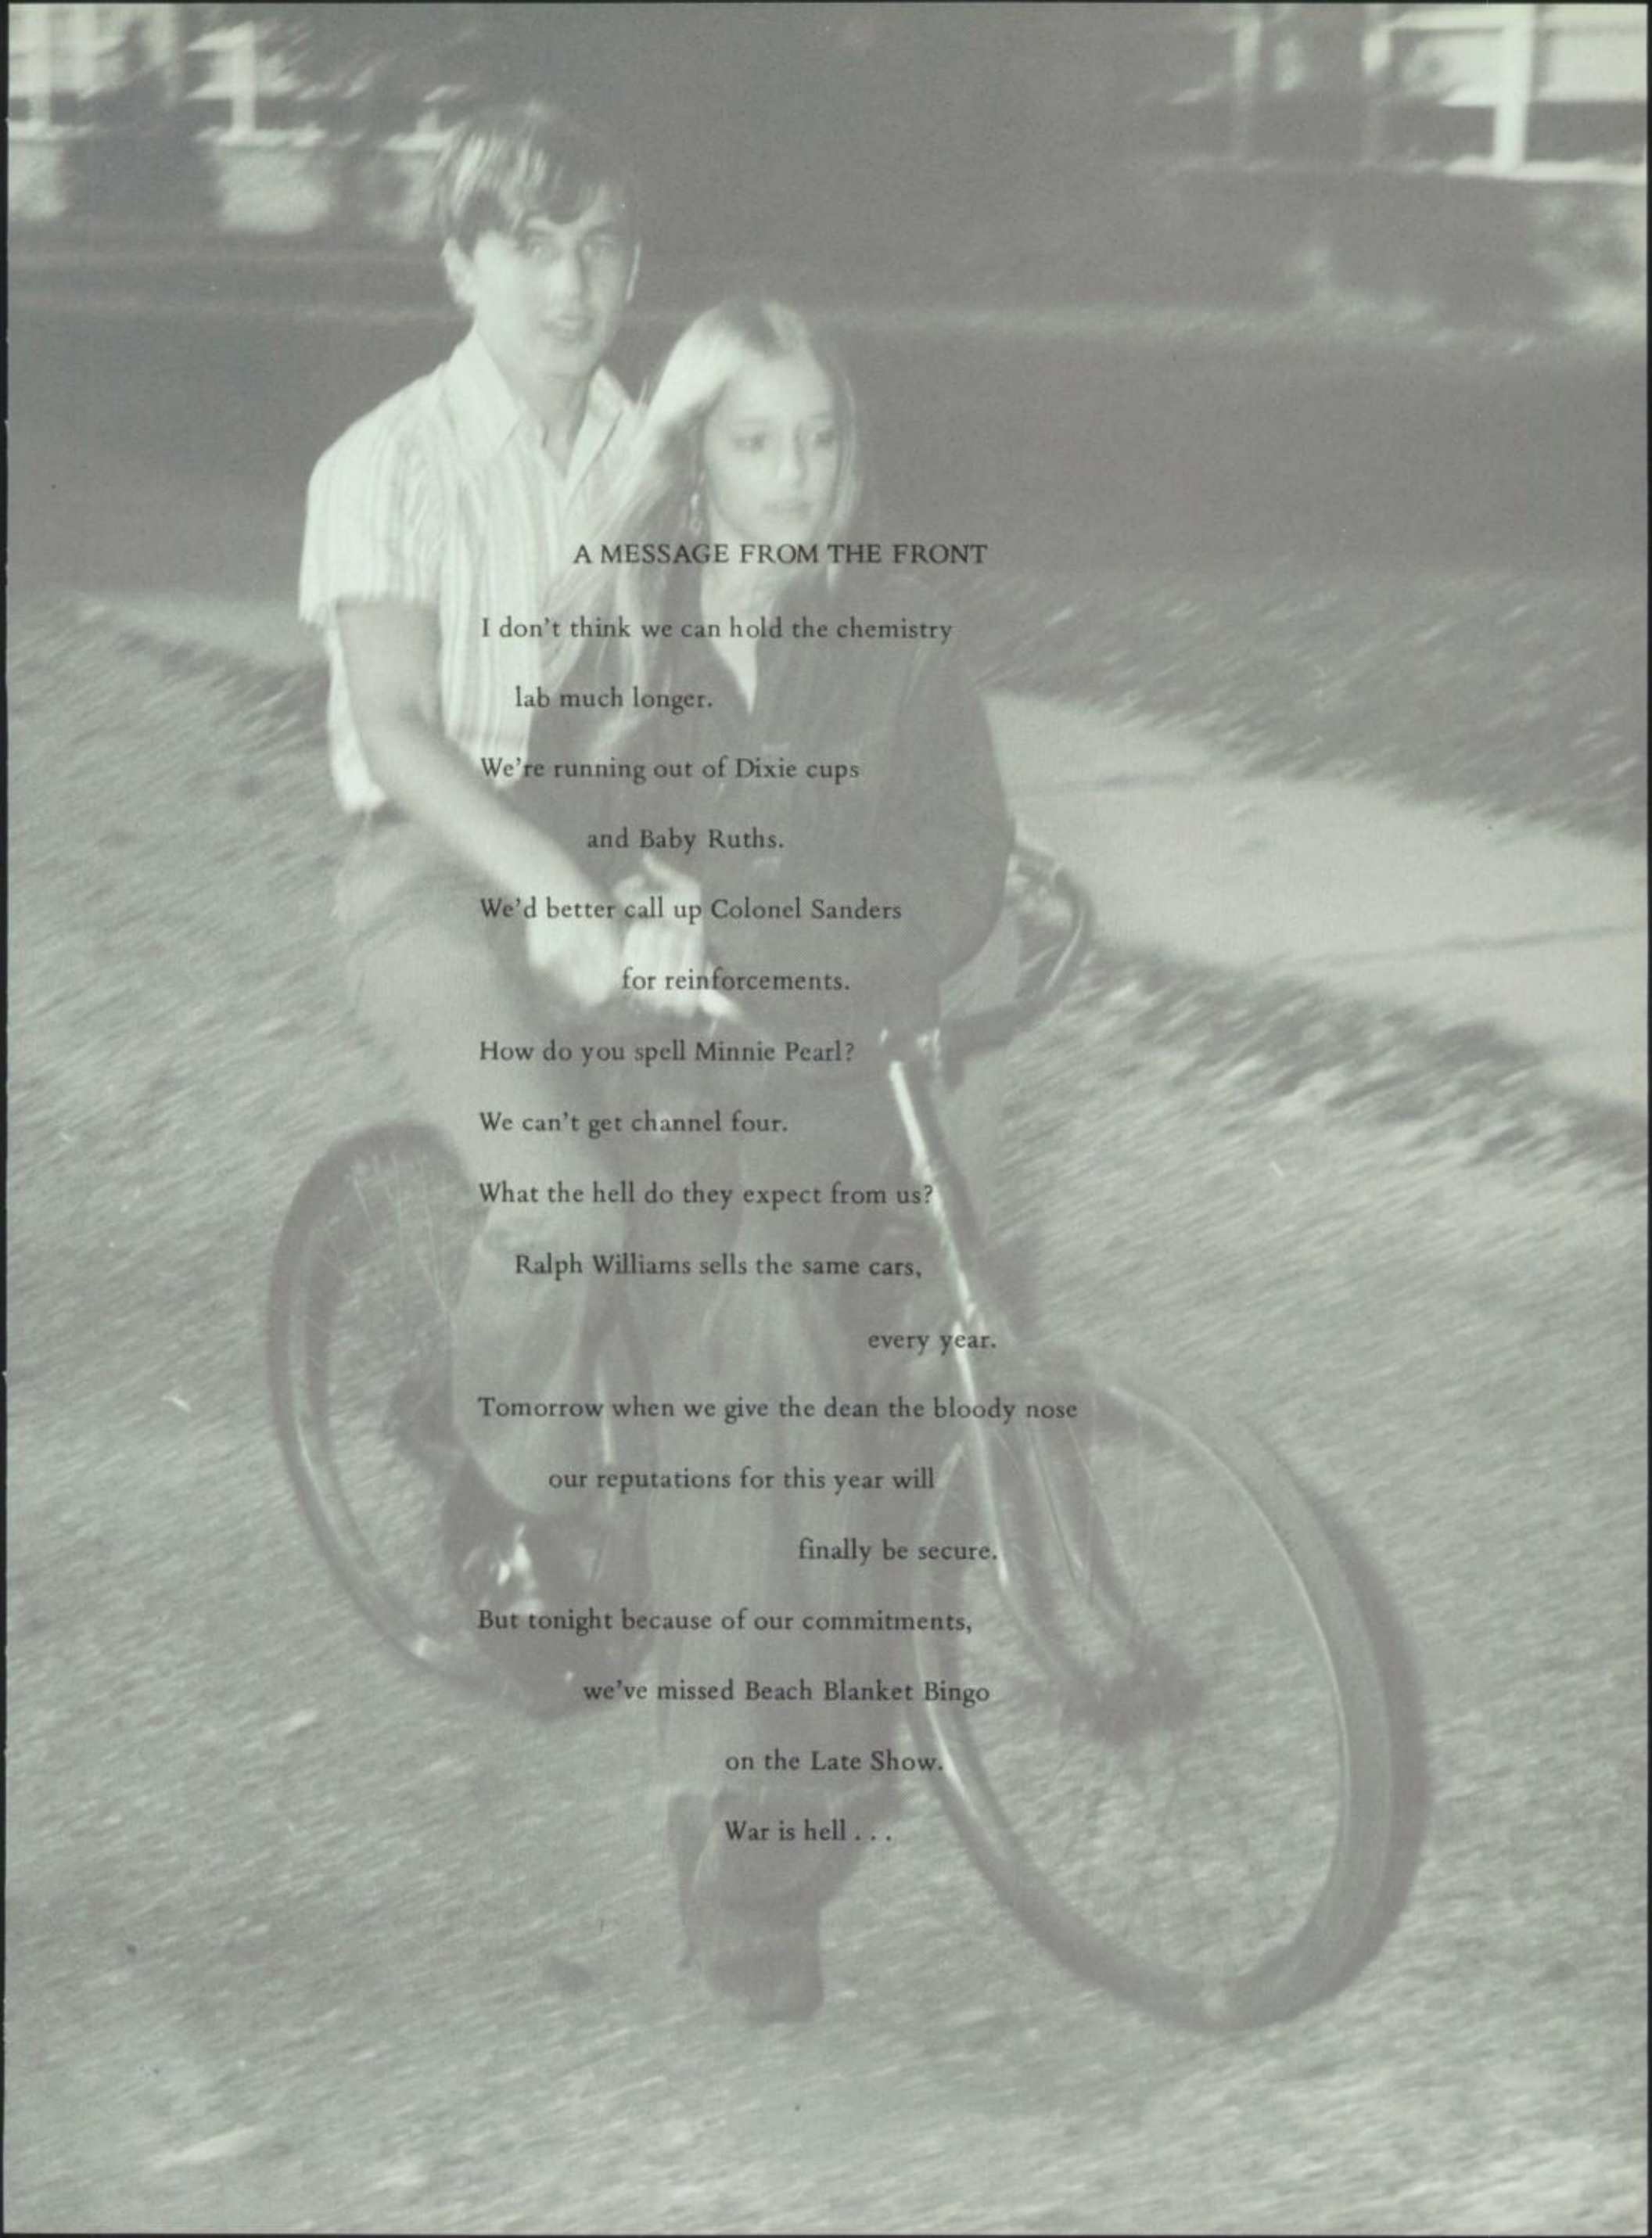
DRUGS



A MESSAGE FROM THE FRONT

I don't think we can hold the chemistry lab much longer.

We're running out of Dixie cups and Baby Ruths.

We'd better call up Colonel Sanders for reinforcements.

How do you spell Minnie Pearl?

We can't get channel four.

What the hell do they expect from us?

Ralph Williams sells the same cars,

every year.

Tomorrow when we give the dean the bloody nose our reputations for this year will finally be secure.

But tonight because of our commitments,

we've missed Beach Blanket Bingo

on the Late Show.

War is hell . . .

I could just sit around makin' music all day long as long as I'm singing music I'm gonna do nobody no harm.
And who knows maybe I'll come up with a song, to make people want to stop all their fussin, and fightin' long enough to sing along.

Music is love and love is music if you know what I mean, people who believe in music are the happiest people I've ever seen.
So clap your hands and stomp your feet and shake your tamborine and lift your voices to the sky and tell me what you see.

I believe in music,
I believe in love.
I believe in music,
I believe in love.

Music is the universal language and love is the key to peace, hope, and understanding and living in harmony.
So grab your brother by the hand and sing along with me
and lift your voices to the sky and tell me what you see.

I believe in music,
I believe in love,
I believe in music,
I believe in love.

Awareness of Time

The fortune teller tells me that I have somewhere to go.
Look and try and understand
And wonder how she knows
So I must be going now
I'm losing time my friend
Looking for a rainbow down
This highway in the wind.

HANDS

Time is the dying sun
in the late afternoon, that melts through our windows and spills upon the floor.

And we stare into the landscapes
of our many-lined hands, wondering of lost moments,
tracing the words unspoken.

For somewhere between our drifting sighs time has stopped and caught us, posed, enclosed in a still-life prism in the light of a dying sun.
